

Student Leadership Team 2017

Kia ora te whanau,

We are the Kaeo School Student leadership team for 2017 and we are here to tell you a little about ourselves, our roles and our recent trip to Auckland to attend the National Young Leaders Day.

My name is Jorja and I am deputy of the Tech Team. My note from NYLD Rangiatea is to believe in your dreams and don't give up, don't step away from your dreams, just believe in yourself and your abilities.

Hi my name is Mako. My job is sports and I go around and see what sport people are playing and get equipment for them if they need it. Sometimes I run games and after play times I go and collect all the sports gear. The reason why I go around the school getting sports gear is so nobody steals it and also that people look after it. I also help Mr Barker with selecting teams like rippa rugby, soccer and hockey for when we go away to play other schools.....

Hello I am Kobe Hills a Library Deputy Leader I manage the library with Andre. At National Young Leaders Day I learned from the creator of the Thank You products and the author of Chapter One, which is Daniel Flynn, that we can change minds and change feelings- change is chances from 10% to 100% we all have the power to make a change.

Hello I am Andre the student leader of the library, it is my job to open the library every Wednesday and Friday lunch times. I put out the board games for people to play in the library. I help Mrs Martin order books in the right place. I am a team with Kobe we work together and share. I was observing the NYLD and saw that Daniel Flynn said something about that dreams can come true, but sometimes not in the way you want. NYLD was fun.

Hi, I'm Rosealee the student leader of the Enviro Team. The person I enjoyed listening to from the NYLD is Aaron Jackson. He is an actor in Shortland Street he plays Haden but he isn't bad it's just his character in the movie. He taught me that your opinion of yourself is stronger than anyone else's and not to doubt yourself. He had a story where he had to believe in himself. He was born with a deformed lip and he went to a surgeon to fix his lip but it didn't go really well. When he was about nine or ten he kept being bullied because of his deformity but the problem was that he listened to them and let the bullies get the best of him but soon he had his lip formed by a proper surgeon put his lip back and he finally realised he didn't need to listen to the negative comments.

Hi I'm Kaya and I am the Cultural Team Deputy Leader. At the NYLD conference all the leaders took some notes on how we can make the school better and how we can do a better job as leaders. It is by believing in yourself showing it doesn't matter how people like you that is how you can believe in yourself.

My name is Harmony and I am deputy leader of the Enviro Team- When you get put down always bouncy back up and be ngaro and never show that you are invisible.

Hi my name is Jayden and I am the Cultural leader. My favourite presenter at NYLD was Daniel Flynn, co-founder of Thankyou water. He has helped provide water for countries that don't have much, such as Syria, Africa and many more powerless countries. What I have learnt from Daniel is to take on the impossible because impossible is only some one's opinion, not a fact, which means give it a go, even if you fail you can always bounce back up and start something else. Nothing is impossible until you explore its features.
