

News From Room 7

Kia ora koutou. This term we have been focusing on being young scientists and mathematicians. We have been asking curious questions and working with our learning buddies to solve problems in maths. We also have been observing the changes in the seasons, especially our big Autumn tree that we see from our classroom. We tried sketching for the first time, and sketched our tree, then a leaf and this week we sketched fruit from our brain snack bowl. Our big science focus about water has been lots of fun so far, and our observation logs are amazing. If you have some spare time, come in and see our grass caterpillars
