Term 2
Week 10

Hello,

Hopefully everyone found the time to visit the 'Great Art Exhibition' over the last few days. If you have I trust that, like me, you have been amazed at the art works on display and filled with pride in the children's work.

From the sand art to the beautiful elephants, from the carefully made geckos to the Lorax trees, from cardboard lions to scenes from space and everything else in between the work was simply stunning!

That the hall looked so beautiful was great, but also wonderful was the pride that the children have in their work and in sharing it with their family and friends. That mums and dads and nanas and grandads, and brothers and sisters and aunties and uncles got to share this pride was awesome as were the opportunities the children got to learn and practice art skills and techniques along the way.

Once again, our teachers and staff have done an amazing job – working closely with every child to create the art but also in working to present the children's work in creative and interesting ways (sometimes late into the night!) and as always to an extremely high standard. A big thank you to them and to their small army of helpers! This work can go unnoticed but really is key to ensuring that the children's work is presented to the high standard that it deserves.

Finally, thanks to our sponsors who supported us so generously and congratulations to the winners of our raffle (see below).

This is the last newsletter of the term and school closes at 1pm on Friday – enjoy the winter break with your lovely children. School recommences on Monday the 25th of July.

Kind regards,
Paul Barker

School Photos

School photos will be taken on the first Tuesday (the 26th of July) after we return from the upcoming winter holiday. Order forms and advice around how to order have been sent home.

Students of the Week

No Students of the Week last week as the hall was filled with beautiful art – so instead here is a very nice picture of Taylor and her lovely Dad at the Great Art Exhibition opening.

Great Art Exhibition Raffle

Attendance

Well done to Room 7 for taking out the weekly attendance award last week. 92% attendance is a top effort given the winter colds!
